Update: City of Music Laneways: No Fixed Address Lane Mural

6

- The Adelaide City of Music Laneway Naming Project names Adelaide laneways after music identities who have experienced success of which Adelaide is proud.
- The City of Adelaide has named No Fixed Address Lane as part of the City of Music Laneway Naming Project.
- The lanes are to be named with street signage, plaques and artworks to build on Adelaide's reputation as place of culture and creativity.
- Artworks such as murals will help make the lanes destinations through a range of innovative, bold, colourful and immersive art experiences.

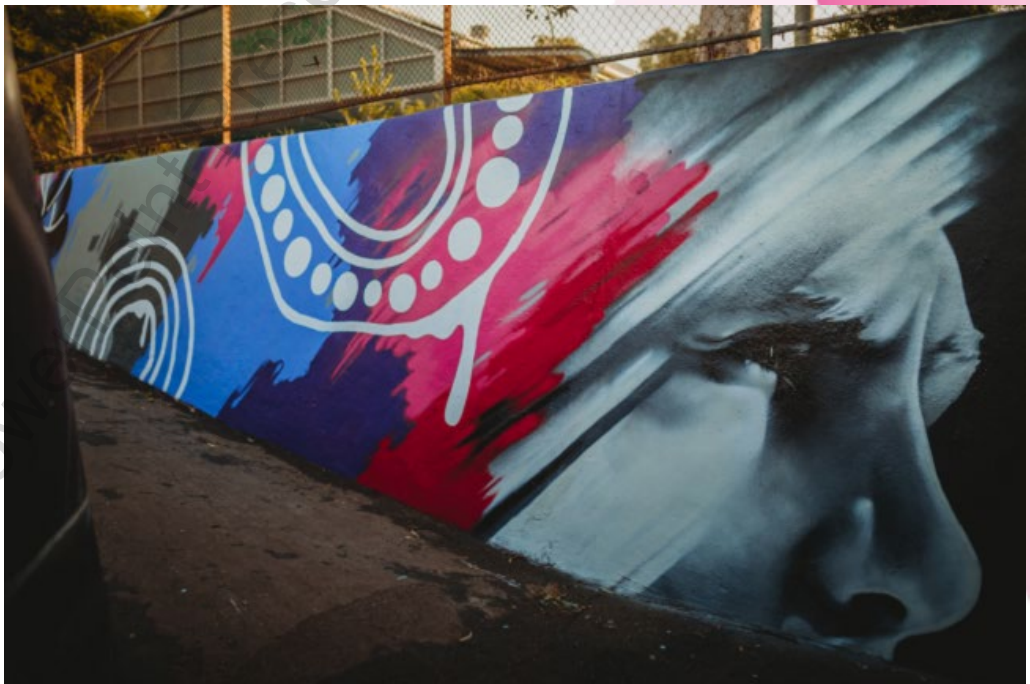

Update: City of Music Laneways: No Fixed Address Lane Mural

- No Fixed Address is an Aboriginal Australian reggae rock group formed in 1979, and the first reggae rock group in Australia. They were the first Aboriginal band to tour overseas. In 2011 No Fixed Address were inducted in the National Indigenous Music Awards Hall of Fame.
- A prominent laneway in the heart of the City has been selected for No Fixed Address. The laneway runs off Rundle Mall, to the east of the Rundle Place building (formerly Lindes Lane). The laneway was selected for a variety of reasons including its proximity to the Centre of Aboriginal Studies in Music at the University of Adelaide.
- The mural will be painted in the eastern façade wall of the Rundle Place near the entrance to Rundle Place at the southern end of the Lane.

Adelaide Central Market Authority Art proposal

February 2021

The Adelaide Central Market acknowledges that we are meeting on the traditional country of the Kaurna people of the Adelaide Plains and pays respect to Elders past and present. We recognise and respect their cultural heritage, beliefs and relationship with the land. We acknowledge that they are of continuing importance to the Kaurna people living today. And we also extend that respect to other Aboriginal Language Groups and other First Nations.

OVERVIEW

The Adelaide Central Market is more than a fresh produce market, it's a meeting place, a place in the heart of our city and a place that respects and celebrates cultural diversity through its vibrant community of customers, traders and visitors.

The Adelaide Central Market Authority is committed to meaningful and respectful inclusivity, a welcoming place for locals and tourists alike.

As part of the Adelaide Central Market Authority's commitment to delivering the City of Adelaide's Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) 2018-2021 the Adelaide Central Market has identified an opportunity to engage an Aboriginal artist to commission a mural.

The piece could be by an individual Kurna artist or be a collaboration or mentorship between an emerging Kurna artist and established artist.

The piece will be unveiled during Reconciliation Week 2021 (27 May to 3 June 2021).

OVERVIEW

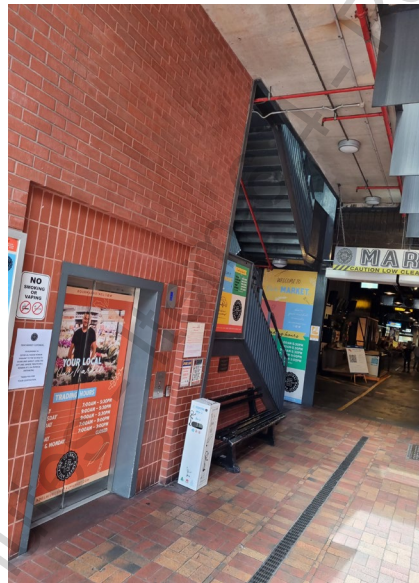

The proposed location for the artwork is in a high profile Market entrance on Gouger Street (SW corner), and adjacent to the Market's event activation area and largest common dining area which seats approximately 100 people when at full capacity.

The area was selected as an opportunity to create a strong entry statement and for it's high foot traffic, prominent location. The location also allows for ongoing annual activations that recognise and respect Aboriginal culture.

The undercover location will also provide some weather protection to ensure the longevity of the artwork.

Scope of Works

- A mural, located at the Gouger St lift wall
- Measurement: 12sqm (approx. 3.6m x 5m, with void for lift doors)

LOCATION

The nearby Gouger dining area is home to many food, art and cultural events important to our community.
